INTRODUCTORY NOTE

i.—The Collection and Compilation of the Statistics.

The rail and river-borne trade gives some idea of the extent to which the different parts of the country are respectively concerned in the movements of the chief articles of trade. It is a supplement to the seaborne trade of the country, and it shows where the commodities after importation at the ports go for consumption, and whence the ports get the supply for exports outside the country. For the purpose of registration of the trade the country is divided into 17 principal blocks, namely, nine blocks representing the British Provinces—Assam, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa,* the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab, Sind and British Baluchistan, the Central Provinces and Berar, Bombay and Madras; four representing the principal port towns—Calcutta, Bombay, the Madras sea-ports,† and Karachi; and four representing Native States—Rajputana and Central India grouped as one, the Nizam's territory, Mysore, and Kashmir. The trade shown in the accounts under the head "Bengal" is the trade of the province of Bengal excluding Calcutta, the trade of which is shown separately; similarly the trade credited to Bombay, to Sind and British Baluchistan, or to Madras is the trade of such province excluding Bombay port, Karachi, or the seaports of Madras for which separate figures are given. The trade registered is the trade that comes into or goes out of each block by rail, exclusive of traffic that is merely booked through. The railborne trade is not registered in Burma. The trade of Native States which lie within the external boundaries of a British province is included in the trade of the province.

With the exception of Sind and British Baluchistan, the British Provinces are subdivided into minor or internal blocks, and each of the sixteen principal seaports of Madras is an internal block of the main block "Madras seaports." The formation of these internal blocks was not carried out on any uniform principle. In some cases their boundaries follow administrative divisions, while in others they are determined by geographical or other considerations. The Native States have no internal blocks. The registration of the railborne trade is done by the railway audit offices which register the goods carried for delivery to consignees on their own lines, and in some cases, passing over their lines for delivery on connected lines. Goods carried from one station to another within the same internal block are not registered. The required information is collected from railway invoices which show, among other particulars, the description of goods, the stations from which they are sent and at which they are received, and the gross actual weights. A certain percentage which varies according to the class of goods, is taken to represent the weight of packing materials, and this is deducted from the gross actual weights recorded in railway invoices. The remainder is taken as the net weight of the goods. This net weight is registered and is shown in these tables. The railway audit offices register the trade (1) between the internal blocks of a province, and (2) between the internal blocks of a province and the internal blocks of other provinces. They supply

* Constituted a separate block from 1st April 1912.

† Madras seaports are—

Madras, Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellicherry, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara and the French Ports, namely Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur, and Karikal.

quarterly returns to the local authorities. Quarterly statements are prepared for each province for submission to this Department. The statements show—

- i. The trade of the province as a whole with other provinces.
- ii. The trade of each internal block in the province with other provinces.
- iii. The trade of the internal blocks of the province with one another.

The consolidated accounts of the inland trade of India are compiled from Statement I of the quarterly returns received from the several provinces and from the quarterly returns supplied by the railways concerned of the trade of the Native States blocks with one another. The trade between each of the four Native States blocks and British Provinces is ascertained thus—the imports into the provinces represent the exports from the Native States, and the exports from the provinces represent imports into the Native States.

The river-borne trade is registered between Bengal (including Calcutta) and Assam, Calcutta and Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Bihar and Orissa, Calcutta and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab and Sind, and British Baluchistan. The results are combined with the railborne trade statistics. The river-borne trade represents the trade carried by country boats, as well as by inland steamers. The boat traffic is registered at certain selected river stations by clerks who collect the necessary information from the boatmen and forward the returns to the provincial officers. The trade carried by steamers is registered by the steamer agents, and in some cases clerks from provincial offices extract the required information from the invoices recorded in the steamer companies' offices. The trade carried partly by rail and partly by river, when booked through and carried by steamers running in connection with railways, is recorded generally by the railway audit offices concerned. This trade is treated as railborne trade.

As the railway and steamer invoices do not contain figures of value, the returns prepared by the audit offices contain only figures of quantity recorded in standard maund of 82½ lbs. The annual provincial reports contain figures of value assigned by provincial officers, but for certain class of articles the values recorded in those reports represent only a very vague approximation to the truth and no exact debtor and creditor account exhibiting the true balance of trade can be extracted therefrom. The values in the provincial reports therefore are not taken into account in the accounts for India which contain only figures of quantity in cwts, converted from net weights in maunds. As, however, the values provide the only possible common measure by which the relative importance of each article can be ascertained they are retained in the provincial reports. The classified list of articles shown in the tables is arranged in alphabetical order. The classification corresponds in the main with that employed in the seaborne trade accounts; but it is less detailed, and the various articles are not grouped under main headings.

The nature of the trade recorded in the several tables of this account is explained below :—

Table I is an abstract of the rail and river-borne trade of British India showing total quantity of merchandise imported into and exported from each Province and Native State and the chief seaports. Figures are given for five years ending 1913-14. The same merchandise appears in the first and second parts as imports and exports respectively. The totals, therefore, correspond. Table II is a similar abstract for treasure. Table III is an abstract table showing for five years the imports into, and exports from, each of the seventeen principal blocks of each article according to the classified list. Table IV gives a general view of the trade of the year in each article, showing at once the quantities imported into and exported from each of the seventeen principal blocks. Tables V-XII show the imports and exports of principal articles (i.e., articles the trade in which exceeds 10,000 cwts a year in each province) into and from Calcutta, Bombay port, Karachi and Madras port for five years.

ii.—General Summary.

It has already been pointed out that since the same merchandise carried by rail and river appears once as imports under one block and again as exports under another block, the total imports and total exports of India accordingly correspond. The following table shows the trade and the share in the total trade of each block during the year ending March 1914. These shares have been calculated on the grand total of imports and exports for each block and for all India.

Madras ports	1,455	1,169	2,624	3·89
Total	33,751	33,751	67,502	100

The total trade as regards quantity amounted to 67,502,000 tons as compared with 68,796,000 tons in 1912-13 and 54,027,000 tons on the average of the previous 3 years. The inland trade of the British Provinces (excluding that of the seaports) was 60·82 per cent and that of the seaports 33·27 per cent. The rail and river-borne trade of Calcutta was by far the largest, and represented 18·4 per cent of the total inland trade of British India, or nearly three times that of Bombay port, the imports alone accounting for 14·47 per cent of the total inland trade registered. Bengal (excluding Calcutta) follows with a trade of 10,247,000 tons, or 15·18 per cent of the total inland trade.

The total trade of Bengal (including Calcutta) amounted to 33·58 per cent. The trade of the Bombay port was 7·01 per cent and that of the Bombay Presidency, (excluding the port) 5·46 per cent. The total inland trade of Bombay Presidency (including Bombay port) amounted to 12·47 per cent or a little above one-third of the trade of Bengal with Calcutta. The large excess of exports over imports of Bihar and Orissa is due to heavy despatches of coal and coke which amount to over 80 per cent of the total exports from the province.

As compared with 1912-13 the total trade in 1913-14 shows (in round numbers).

an increase of—

34 per cent in raw cotton	(781,000 tons as against 585,000 tons in 1912-13)

THE SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA,
DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit the report on inland (rail and river-borne) trade for the year 1914-15 and on imports of staples into the ports for 1915-16. An analysis of the returns is for the first time prefaced to the Returns.

2. An explanatory note on the method of collection and tabulation of the inland (rail and river-borne) trade statistics is appended to the report. The inland trade gives some idea of the extent to which the different parts of the country are concerned in the movements of the chief articles of trade. It is a supplement to the sea-borne trade of the country, and it shows where the commodities after importation at the ports go for consumption, and whence the ports import the commodities for export abroad. The figures in the report have been analysed and the results of the analysis are summarised below.

In the inland trade the same merchandise appears once as exports from one block, and again as imports into another block, and the total exports and total imports of India, therefore, correspond. During the year under report the total exports and total imports each amounted to 31,673,000 tons notwithstanding eight months of war as compared with 33,751,000 tons in 1913-14 and 30,086,000 tons on the average of the three previous years.

3. The inland trade falls under two classes, namely, (1) trade of the port towns and (2) that of the provinces, including Native States.

4. The trade of the port towns, which is about 61 per cent of the total inland trade, is largely concerned with the collection of produce and manufacture for exports, and the distribution of imported goods. It may be mentioned, however, that the traffic from the port towns is not wholly in foreign merchandise, nor is the traffic which flows to them wholly country produce or produce intended for exportation. A portion of the traffic which is distributed inland, although what portion it is difficult to say, is country produce and manufactures brought to port towns by coast, or produced in the towns themselves and sent inland. Similarly a portion of the exports to the port towns is intended for consumption in the ports, or for despatch by coast to other parts of the country.

VOLUME OF INLAND TRADE OF THE PORT TOWNS.
	Average of three years ending 1912-13 (1,000 tons.)	1913-14 (1,000 tons.)	1914-15 (1,000 tons.)	Share in total trade (imports or exports) per cent.
Calcutta	11,975	12,418	11,543	36
Bombay	4,111	4,735	3,902	12
Madras Ports	2,235	2,624	2,332	7
Karachi	2,673	2,677	1,893	6

The figures in the margin show the volume of inland trade of the port towns, as also their percentage shares in the total inland trade.

As a trading centre Calcutta holds the premier position amongst the port towns. The inland trade between one port town and another is small. It amounted to 161,000 tons in 1914-15, and consisted mainly of an interchange of cotton piecegoods, gunny bags and cloth, oilseeds and tea between Calcutta and Bombay.

Principal Articles.

5. The trade of the port towns in principal articles is shown in the margin.

	Average of three years ending 1912-13 (1,000 tons.)	1913-14 (1,000 tons.)	1914-15 (1,000 tons.)
Cotton manufactures	320	347	332
Metals and manufactures	1,287	1,606	1,147
Kerosene oil (including exports from Budge Budge)	458	513	511
Sugar	548	667	444
Salt (from Calcutta)	419	431	391
Cotton, raw	529	724	576
Grain and pulse	4,371	3,903	3,091
Oilseeds	1,889	2,017	1,184
Coal and Coke (into Calcutta)	5,360	5,607	5,280
Jute, raw	1,152	1,162	925
Gunny bags and cloth	294	299	372
Tea	100	103	125
Ores (into Bombay port)	498	573	334
Coal and Coke (into Bombay Port)	61	92	295

The traffic flowing from the port towns to the interior of the country consists principally of foreign merchandise imported by sea, namely, cotton manufactures, metals and metal manufactures, kerosene oil and sugar. In addition to these, railway plant and rolling stock, gunny bags and salt are exported from Calcutta to the interior.* The inward traffic of the port towns comprises chiefly such Indian produce as raw cotton, grain and pulse and oilseeds. Calcutta also receives a large quantity of coal and coke, raw jute, gunny bags, hides and skins and tea; Bombay (port) receives metallic ores and, in the year under review, imported by rail large quantity of coal and coke (295,000 tons in 1914-15, as against 93,000 tons in 1913-14) owing to scarcity of tonnage for despatch by sea (coastwise); Karachi receives raw wool, and the Madras ports hides and skins.

Shares of Port Towns.

6. The shares of different ports in the total trade of each province in 1914-15, are shown in the margin in percentages.

SHARES OF PORT TOWNS IN THE TOTAL TRADE OF EACH PROVINCE (PERCENTAGES).

Rajputana and Central India	3	2	11	...
Nizam's Territory	2	...	29	6
Mysore	1	...	4	21
Kashmir	...	...	...	3

About 59 per cent of trade of the province of Bengal is with Calcutta. A large portion of the trade of the United Provinces, of Bihar and Orissa and of Assam is also with Calcutta. About 26 per cent of the trade of the Punjab is with Karachi, and the trade of Sind and British Baluchistan with Karachi is about 74 per cent of their total trade. 48 per cent of the inland trade of the Bombay Presidency, excluding Sind, is with its port (Bombay). The Central Provinces and Berar have 37 per cent, Rajputana and Central India 11 per cent, and the Nizam's Territory 29 per cent, of their trade with the Bombay port. 68 per cent of the trade of the Madras Presidency, and 21 per cent of the trade of Mysore are with Madras ports.

Trade of Provinces.

7. The trade of the Provinces including Native States with one another is a little over one-third of the total inland trade (imports or exports). The principal articles which the Provinces, including Native States, exchange with one another are coal and coke, food grains, salt and sugar. Bengal also receives in considerable quantities hemp, jute and metallic ores from Bihar, and tea from Assam; Bombay receives raw cotton from Rajputana and Central India and the Nizam's Territory and metallic ores from Madras and Mysore. The Punjab receives cotton seed from the United Provinces. Bengal's position in the inland trade is high on account of its large production of jute, rice and other food grains, oilseeds, coal and tea. Bihar and Orissa is important for its enormous production of coal. Tea and rice are, of course, the staple products of export from Assam; cotton, wheat and seeds from the Bombay Presidency and Sind; cotton and groundnuts from the Madras Presidency; and spring and winter crops (rice, wheat, gram, linseed, rapeseed, etc.) from the United Provinces and the Punjab, and these are the articles which flow largely from the interior to Calcutta, Bombay port, Madras ports and Karachi.

8. The effects of war on India's internal trade are shown in the trade of Effects of War. the ports with the interior. The volume of exports from the ports declined from 6,028,000 tons in 1913-14 to 5,568,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 7 per cent and that of imports into the ports from 16,340,000 tons to 13,907,000 tons or by 15 per cent. The exports of principal foreign merchandise from the ports to the interior and the imports of main agricultural staples into the ports from the interior showed a remarkable shrinkage.

Exports to the interior from the ports.

9. The exports by rail and river of foreign cotton piecegoods, from the Exports from Ports. ports to the interior decreased from 200,000 tons in 1913-14 to 172,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 14 per cent. The decrease is due mainly to smaller supplies from Calcutta to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa and the United Provinces; from Cotton Piecegoods. Bombay Port to the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Berar, and Rajputana and Central India; from Karachi to the Punjab; and from Madras ports to the Madras Presidency. The imports by sea into India, excluding Burma from foreign countries of cotton piecegoods during the same period showed a decrease of 76,000 tons (taking 24 yards of piecegoods as equivalent to 6 lbs), or 22 per cent.

10. The exports by rail and river of iron and steel-bars, sheets, girders, Iron and steel-bars, sheets, girders, etc. etc., from the ports to the interior declined from 480,000 tons in 1913-14 to 358,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 25 per cent on account of smaller supplies chiefly from Calcutta to Bengal.

11. Refined sugar exported by rail and river from the ports to the Refined Sugar. interior fell from 446,000 tons to 257,000 tons or by 42 per cent. The fall is due principally to smaller consignments from Karachi to the Punjab, from Calcutta to the United Provinces and Bengal, and from Bombay port to the Central Provinces and Berar and the Bombay Presidency. The imports by sea of refined sugar (16 D. S. and above) into India, excluding Burma from foreign countries declined from 765,000 tons in 1913-14 to 404,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 47 per cent.

12. The exports of rice by rail and river from the ports to the interior, Rice. however, showed a remarkable rise from 368,000 tons to 574,000 tons. This is due mainly to larger consignments of Burma rice from Calcutta to the United Provinces and Bihar and Orissa where the crop was a partial failure. These large coastwise exports from Rangoon to India proper were of great assistance to Burma rice trade at a time when, owing to the war, exports abroad were greatly curtailed. The imports by sea coastwise of rice husked into Bengal from Burma in 1914-15 were 611,000 tons as against 367,000 tons in the preceding year.

Imports from the interior into the ports.

13. As compared with 1913-14, the imports of raw cotton by rail and Imports into ports. river into the ports from the interior in 1914-15 decreased by 875,000 bales or 22 per cent to 3,120,000 bales. The decrease is due chiefly to smaller imports Raw Cotton. into Bombay port from the United Provinces, the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Berar and the Bombay Presidency; and into Karachi from the Punjab. Exports from the interior fell off considerably during the last three quarters of 1914-15, those in the first quarter (pre-war period) being much larger than in the corresponding period of the preceding year. The exports of raw cotton by sea to foreign countries from India, excluding Burma, declined during the same period by 77,000 bales or 3 per cent to 2,851,000 bales.

14. The imports of gram and pulse by rail and river into the ports from Gram and Pulse. the interior fell from 542,000 tons in 1913-14 to 391,000 tons in 1914-15. All the port blocks received smaller consignments; Calcutta received smaller consignments from Bengal and the United Provinces, Bombay port from the United Provinces and the Central Provinces and Berar; Karachi from the Punjab; and Madras ports from the Madras Presidency and Rajputana and Central India. The exports of gram and pulse by sea to foreign countries from India, excluding Burma during the same period, fell off from 159,000 tons to 76,000 tons or by 52 per cent.

Rice.

15. The imports of rice into the ports from the interior shrank from 673,000 tons in 1913-14 to 476,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 29 per cent, mainly on account of smaller imports into Calcutta from Bengal and Bihar and Orissa. The foreign exports by sea of rice from India, excluding Burma, during the same period declined from 595,000 tons, to 436,000 tons or by 27 per cent.

Wheat.

16. The imports of wheat by rail and river into the ports from the interior declined from 1,545,000 tons in 1913-14 to 1,026,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 34 per cent. The imports into Bombay port decreased by 230,000 tons to 95,000 tons; into Karachi by 182,900 tons to 771,000 tons; and into Calcutta by 108,000 tons to 159,000 tons. Bombay port received smaller supplies from the Central Provinces and Berar and Rajputana and Central India; Karachi from the United Provinces and the Punjab; and Calcutta from the United Provinces and the Central Provinces and Berar. The foreign exports by sea of wheat from India, excluding Burma, decreased from 1,202,000 tons in 1913-14 to 706,000 tons in 1914-15 or by 41 per cent.

The noteworthy feature in the wheat trade is the remarkable decrease in the exports from the Punjab to Karachi and the considerable increase in the exports to the United Provinces. The exports to Karachi decreased from 1,047,000 tons in 1912-13 to 753,000 tons in 1913-14 and to 717,000 tons in 1914-15, while the exports to the United Provinces increased from 600 tons in 1912-13 to 90,000 tons in 1913-14 and 80,000 tons in 1914-15. The explanation of these large exports to the United Provinces seems connected with the partial crop failure in those provinces.

Jute.

17. On account of smaller imports into Calcutta, mainly from Bengal, the arrivals of jute from the interior into the ports declined from 5,955,000 bales to 4,613,000 bales or by 23 per cent. The districts of Bengal from which the jute imports came were chiefly:—Dacca (17 per cent), Faridpur (16 per cent), Rangpur (11 per cent), and Mymensingh (10 per cent). The exports of raw jute by sea from India, excluding Burma, to foreign countries decreased from 4,303,000 bales in 1913-14 to 2,829,000 bales in 1914-15, or by 34 per cent.

Metallic Ores.

18. The decrease in the imports into the ports from the interior of metallic ores (chiefly manganese ore) from 689,000 tons to 399,000 tons, or of 42 per cent, is due mainly to smaller exports from the Central Provinces and Berar to Bombay port. The foreign sea-borne exports of manganese ore from India, excluding Burma, decreased from 718,000 tons in 1913-14 to 441,000 tons in 1914-15, or by 39 per cent.

Rape and mustard seed.

19. The imports of rape and mustard seed into the ports from the interior fell from 474,000 tons in 1913-14 to 185,000 tons in 1914-15, or by 61 per cent, owing mainly to smaller supplies to Karachi from the Punjab and the United Provinces. The imports into Calcutta from Bihar and Orissa and the United Provinces and into Bombay port from the United Provinces also showed a decrease. The exports of rape and mustard seed by sea from India, excluding Burma, during the same period, declined from 254,000 tons to 99,000 tons, or by 61 per cent.

Linseed.

20. Owing to smaller exports of linseed chiefly to Bombay port from Rajputana and Central India, the Central Provinces and Berar, the United Provinces and the Nizam's Territory, the imports into the ports decreased from 459,000 tons to 273,000 tons or by 41 per cent. Smaller imports into Calcutta from Bengal and the United Provinces also contributed to the decrease. The exports of linseed by sea from India, excluding Burma to foreign countries decreased by 92,000 tons, or 22 per cent, to 322,000 tons.

Cotton Seed.

21. The decrease in the imports of cotton seed into the ports from the interior from 350,000 tons to 220,000 tons, or by 37 per cent, is due to smaller receipts into Bombay. The exports from the Nizam's Territory showed slight increases, but those from the Central Provinces and Berar, the Bombay Presidency, Rajputana and Central India decreased considerably. The exports of cotton seed by sea to foreign countries from India, excluding Burma, fell from 284,000 tons to 208,000 tons or by 27 per cent.

22. As compared with 1913-14, the imports of sesamum (til or jinjili seed) ^{Sesamum.} into the ports from the interior in 1914-15 decreased by 106,000 tons, or 68 per cent to 49,000 tons. The decrease is due mainly to a decrease in imports into Bombay port from the Central Provinces and Berar, the Nizam's Territory, Rajputana and Central India, and the United Provinces and into Karachi from the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan. The exports of sesamum to foreign countries by sea from India, excluding Burma, shrank from 112,000 tons in 1913-14 to 47,000 tons in 1914-15, or by 58 per cent.

23. The imports of groundnuts into the ports fell from 286,000 tons in 1913-14 to 193,000 tons in 1914-15, or by 32 per cent, due chiefly to smaller exports from the Bombay Presidency to Bombay port and from the Madras Presidency to Madras ports. The exports by sea to foreign countries from India, excluding Burma, of groundnuts during the same period declined from 251,000 tons to 136,000 tons or by 46 per cent.

24. Owing principally to smaller imports of castor seed into Bombay port ^{Castor Seed.} from the Nizam's Territory and the Bombay Presidency, the imports into the ports fell from 163,000 tons to 98,000 tons or by 40 per cent. The exports of castor seed by sea to foreign countries from India, excluding Burma, declined from 135,000 tons to 83,000 tons or by 39 per cent.

25. Of the principal agricultural staples exported from the interior to ^{tea.} the ports, tea is the only article which showed a considerable increase. The imports into the ports advanced from 216,512,000 lbs. in 1913-14 to 258,945,000 lbs. in 1914-15, or by 20 per cent. The exports to Calcutta from Assam rose by 35,497,000 lbs. to 161,433,000 lbs. and from Bengal by 7,503,000 lbs. to 82,850,000 lbs. The great bulk of the exports of tea by sea to foreign countries is of course from Bengal and the quantity exported by sea from India, excluding Burma, in 1914-15 amounted to 300,730,000 lbs. as against 289,465,000 lbs. in 1913-14, or an increase of 4 per cent.

Imports into the ports of agricultural staples in 1915-16.

26. Figures of quantity of certain agricultural staples imported by rail and ^{Fluctuations in} river into the ports from the interior for the year 1915-16 are available from the ^{1915-16 as against} monthly returns of imports into the chief ports and these have been added to the report in order to show the recovery in the inland trade as compared with the previous year when the shock of war brought about a dislocation in India's internal markets. The imports into the ports by rail and river in 1915-16 showed (in round numbers) a rise of 17 per cent in raw cotton (3,672,000 bales in 1915-16 as against 3,127,000 bales in 1914-15), 27 per cent in rice, including paddy (669,000 tons as against 529,000 tons), 21 per cent in gram and pulse (412,000 tons as against 339,000 tons), 4 per cent in rape and mustard seed (164,000 tons as against 158,000 tons); and a fall of 1 per cent in wheat (1,016,000 tons in 1915-16 as against 1,025,000 tons in 1914-15) and 18 per cent in linseed (222,000 tons as against 270,000 tons). The imports into Calcutta of jute increased by about 28 per cent (5,897,000 bales in 1915-16 as against 4,612,000 bales in 1914-15) and of tea by 13 per cent (277,971,000 lbs. as against 245,488,000 lbs.).

27. When compared with 1913-14 (pre-war period), the imports into the ^{Fluctuations in} ports in 1915-16 showed a decrease in all articles, about 8 per cent in raw ^{1915-16 as against} cotton (3,672,000 bales in 1915-16 as against 3,997,000 bales in 1913-14), 34 per cent in wheat (1,016,000 tons as against 1,544,000 tons), 10 per cent in rice including paddy (669,000 tons as against 742,000 tons), 10 per cent in gram and pulse (412,000 tons as against 460,000 tons), 52 per cent in linseed (222,000 tons as against 458,000 tons) and 30 per cent in rape and mustard seed (164,000 tons as against 233,000 tons). The imports into Calcutta of jute declined from 5,954,000 bales in 1913-14 to 5,897,000 bales in 1915-16, or by 1 per cent, but those of tea advanced from 202,825,000 lbs. to 277,971,000 lbs. or by 37 per cent.

NOTE.—One bale of jute is equivalent to 400 lbs.

By "Calcutta" is meant the town of Calcutta with Howrah and the Kidderpore Docks. The imports exclude, therefore, arrivals into those jute mills which are outside this area. Such mills form the large majority of the total number of mills manufacturing jute.

Provinces named in the first column of the foregoing tables include their chief port or ports. "Madras ports" includes the ports of Madras, French ports (Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur and Karikal, exclusive of sea imports from non-British ports and foreign countries), Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellicherry, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara and Dhanushkodi.

NOTE.—One maund is equivalent to 82½ lbs.

APPENDIX.

Note on the method of collection and tabulation of the Statistics of Rail and Riverborne Trade.

For the purpose of registration of the rail and river borne trade the country is divided into 17 principal blocks, namely, nine blocks representing the British Provinces—Assam, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa,* the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab, Sind and British Baluchistan, the Central Provinces and Berar, Bombay and Madras; four representing the principal port towns—Calcutta, Bombay, the Madras sea-ports,† and Karachi; and four representing Native States—Rajputana and Central India grouped as one, the Nizam's territory, Mysore and Kashmir. The trade shown in the accounts under the head "Bengal" is the trade of the province of Bengal excluding Calcutta, the trade of which is shown separately; similarly the trade credited to Bombay, to Sind and British Baluchistan, or to Madras is the trade of such province excluding Bombay port, Karachi, or the seaports of Madras for which separate figures are given. The trade registered is the trade that comes into or goes out of each block by rail, exclusive of traffic that is merely booked through. The railborne trade is not registered in Burma.‡ The trade of Native States which lie within the external boundaries of a British province is included in the trade of the province.

With the exception of Sind and British Baluchistan, the British Provinces are subdivided into minor or internal blocks, and each of the sixteen principal seaports of Madras is an internal block of the main block "Madras seaports." The formation of these internal blocks was not carried out on any uniform principle. In some cases their boundaries follow administrative divisions, while in others they are determined by geographical or other considerations. The Native States have no internal blocks. The registration of the railborne trade is done by the railway audit offices which register the goods carried for delivery to consignees on their own lines, and in some cases, passing over their lines for delivery on connected lines. Goods carried from one station to another within the same internal block are not registered. The required information is collected from railway invoices which show, among other particulars, the description of goods, the stations from which they are sent and at which they are received, and the gross actual weights. A certain percentage which varies according to the class of goods, is taken to represent the weight of packing materials, and this is deducted from the gross actual weights recorded in railway invoices. The remainder is taken as the net weight of the goods. This net weight is registered and is shown in these tables. The railway audit offices register the trade (1) between the internal blocks of a province, and (2) between the internal blocks of a province and the internal blocks of other provinces. They supply quarterly returns to the local authorities. Quarterly statements are prepared for each province for submission to this Department. The statements show—

- i. The trade of the province as a whole with other provinces.
- ii. The trade of each internal block in the province with other provinces.
- iii. The trade of the internal blocks of the province with one another.

* Constituted a separate block from 1st April 1912.

† Madras seaports are—

Madras, Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellicherry, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara and the French Ports, namely Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur, and Karikal.

‡ The registration of Inland Trade in Burma was abandoned in 1897. It was pointed out by the Government of Burma that "no request has ever been made by any mercantile body in Burma for the introduction of a system of registration of rail and river-borne trade. With regard to the movement of grain the Lieutenant Governor is disposed to think that having regard to local conditions, statistics regarding such movement would be of little value, and that the existence of agricultural distress is already in all cases brought to notice by surer and more speedy methods than such statistics would afford."

The consolidated accounts of the inland trade of India are compiled from Statement I of the quarterly returns received from the several provinces and from the quarterly returns supplied by the railways concerned of the trade of the Native States blocks with one another. The trade between each of the four Native States blocks on the one hand and British Provinces on the other is ascertained thus—the imports into British provinces from Native States represent the exports from the Native States, and the exports from the provinces represent imports into the Native States.

The river-borne trade is registered between Bengal (including Calcutta) and Assam, Calcutta and Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Bihar and Orissa, Calcutta and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab and Sind, and British Baluchistan. The results are combined with the rail-borne trade statistics. The river-borne trade represents the trade carried by country boats, as well as by inland steamers. The boat traffic is registered at certain selected river stations by clerks who collect the necessary information from the boatmen and forward the returns to the provincial officers. The trade carried by steamers is registered by the steamer agents, and in some cases clerks from provincial offices extract the required information from the invoices recorded in the steamer companies' offices. The trade carried partly by rail and partly by river, when booked through and carried by steamers running in connection with railways, is recorded generally by the railway audit offices concerned. This trade is treated as rail-borne trade.

As the railway and steamer invoices do not contain figures of value, the returns prepared by the audit offices contain only figures of quantity recorded in standard maund of 82½ lbs. The annual provincial reports contain figures of value assigned by provincial officers, but for certain class of articles the values recorded in those reports represent only a very vague approximation to the truth and no exact debtor and creditor account exhibiting the true balance of trade can be extracted therefrom. The values in the provincial reports therefore are not taken into account in the accounts for India which contain only figures of quantity in cwts converted from net weights in maunds. As, however, the values provide the only possible common measure by which the relative importance of each article can be ascertained they are retained in the provincial reports. The classified list of articles shown in the tables is arranged in alphabetical order. The classification corresponds in the main with that employed in the seaborne trade accounts; but it is less detailed, and the various articles are not grouped under main headings.

The nature of the trade recorded in the several tables of this account is explained below :—

Table I is an abstract of the rail and river-borne trade of British India showing total quantity of merchandise imported into and exported from each Province and Native State and the chief seaports. Figures are given for five years ending 1914-15. The same merchandise appears in the first and second parts as imports and exports respectively. The totals, therefore, correspond. Table II is a similar abstract for treasure. Table III is an abstract table showing for five years the imports into, and exports from, each of the seventeen principal blocks of each article according to the classified list. Table IV gives a general view of the trade of the year in each article, showing at once the quantities imported into and exported from each of the seventeen principal blocks. Tables V-XII show the imports and exports of principal articles (i.e., articles the trade in which exceeds 10,000 cwts a year in each province) into and from Calcutta, Bombay port, Karachi and Madras port for five years.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

This volume is the twenty-eighth of the series which was commenced in 1884-85. It includes statistics relating to the trade carried by rail and river in India up to the year 1915-16, and, in the case of imports into ports of staples, the figures are up to the year 1916-17. Owing to the war and to the increased work connected with certain additional particulars given in this volume, it was not possible to publish it as early as was anticipated. An attempt is, however, being made to publish the twenty-ninth issue earlier.

An explanatory note on the method of collection and tabulation of the inland (rail and riverborne) trade statistics is given in Appendix III (pages 178 and 179). The inland trade is always of interest since it gives some idea of the extent to which the different parts of the country are concerned in the movements of the chief articles of trade. It is a supplement to the seaborne trade of the country. It shows where the commodities after importation at the ports go for consumption, and whence the ports obtain the commodities for export abroad. The question of the simplification and general improvement of the system of inland trade registration and also the earlier publication of the returns is now under the consideration of the Government of India.

In the inland trade the same merchandise appears once as exports from one block and again as imports into another block, and the total exports and imports of India, therefore, correspond. The remarkable feature of the year ending the 31st March, 1916, is that the total imports and exports of merchandise amounted to 65 million tons, or an increase of about 2 million tons over the preceding year and 5 million tons over the prewar quinquennial average.

India being an agricultural country, the variations in the trade of its main staples depend to a great extent on the climatic conditions which are vital to the year's agricultural prosperity. In 1915-16 the monsoon was not very favourable. It arrived late, and was weak and irregular in the northern parts of the Bombay Presidency, especially in Gujarat, in Sind, and in large areas of the Punjab. The rainfall in the north-eastern, central, and southern India was good or excessive, causing serious, and sometimes disastrous, floods in Assam and in parts of Bengal and the United Provinces. In the western and the north-western parts, on the other hand, a continued shortage of rain threatened at one time to have very serious consequences. Fortunately opportune rainfall in September and October greatly improved the prospects of the important rabi crops in the Punjab, and changed the position considerably for the better elsewhere, especially in Gujarat. The winter rains in December, January, and February proved most inadequate as well as untimely in northern India, and this affected considerably the outturn of crops, such as wheat in the Punjab and elsewhere.

The imports from upcountry into the ports comprise chiefly such produce as grain and pulse, raw cotton, and oilseeds. Calcutta also receives a large quantity of coal and coke, raw jute, gunnybags and cloth, hides and skins, and tea; Bombay (port) receives also metallic ores, such as manganese; Karachi, raw wool; and the Madras ports, hides and skins. The appended table shows the arrivals of these commodities into the ports as compared with the preceding year and the prewar quinquennial average:—

	Annual average of five years, 1909-10 to 1913-14	1914-15	1915-16
	000 tons	000 tons	000 tons
Cotton, raw	580	558	656
Grain and pulse	3,568	2,340	2,773
Oil seeds	1,717	1,062	1,182
Coal and coke	5,381	5,665	5,065
Jute, raw	1,049	824	1,053
Gunny bags and cloth	203	275	354
Hides and skins	91	76	93
Tea	93	119	138
Ores	600	399	494
Wool, raw	22	19	30

The total quantity of merchandise imported into the ports by rail and river from up country during the year 1915-16 was 14,833,000 tons, of which 11,832,000 tons, or 80 per cent of the total, represent imports of the articles stated above.

Raw cotton.

The quantity of raw cotton imported into the ports in the year 1915-16 showed an increase of about 18 per cent as compared with 1914-15 and of 13 per cent as compared with the prewar quinquennial average. Of the total imports, Bombay port received more than 80 per cent, her chief sources of supply being the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, the Nizam's Territory, the United Provinces, Rajputana and Central India, and the Punjab.

Grain and pulse.

The imports into the ports of grain and pulse increased by 24 per cent as compared with 1914-15, but declined by 22 per cent as compared with the prewar quinquennial average. Karachi holds a premier place in this transaction, Calcutta coming next to it.

Grain and pulse.

The imports into the ports by rail and river of gram and pulse rose from 394,000 tons in 1914-15 to 503,000 tons in 1915-16. All the ports received larger consignments excepting Calcutta where smaller consignments were sent principally from Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and the Central Provinces and Berar. Bombay port received larger consignments, chiefly from the United Provinces, the Punjab; and the Central Provinces and Berar; Karachi, from the United Provinces and the Punjab; and Madras ports, from the United Provinces, Rajputana and Central India, the Nizam's Territory, and Mysore.

Rice not in the husk.

The imports of rice into the ports of Karachi, Bombay, and the Madras ports rose from 246,000 tons in 1914-15 to 405,000 tons in 1915-16. The imports into Calcutta fell on account of the smaller exports from Bengal and Bihar and Orissa.

Wheat.

The imports of wheat by rail and river into the ports from the interior showed a slight decrease in 1915-16 (1,017,000 tons as against 1,026,000 tons in the previous year). Calcutta and Bombay received larger consignments in the year under report, but these were counterbalanced by smaller imports into Karachi, which showed a decrease of 167,000 tons, due to the restriction on account of the embargo on all wheat exports except under Government control.

Oilseeds.

The trade in oilseeds, the bulk of which consists of receipts mainly from the Nizam's Territory, the Bombay Presidency and the Central Provinces and Berar into the Bombay port for export abroad, had received a sudden check on the outbreak of war. The imports rose from 1,662,000 tons in 1914-15 to 1,182,000 tons in 1915-16, but showed a decline of 535,000 tons as compared with the prewar quinquennial average.

Coal and Coke.

The imports of coal and coke into the ports by rail and river showed a decrease of 600,000 tons or 11 per cent as against 1914-15 and of 316,000 tons or 6 per cent as compared with the prewar quinquennial average. The trade in coal and coke is chiefly done by Calcutta, but on account of the conditions of war and consequent rise in sea freights the imports by rail and river into Calcutta declined from 5,280,000 tons in 1914-15 to 3,945,000 tons in 1915-16. This smaller supply to Calcutta was made up to some extent by increased imports into other ports by rail.

Jute, raw.

The trade in raw jute had received a considerable shock on the outbreak of war, on account of the stoppage of the mid-European demand, but in the year under report it recovered and exceeded the normal level. Calcutta is practically the only port which has the monopoly of this trade. The imports of raw jute into Calcutta showed an increase by 229,000 tons, or by 25 per cent, over 1914-15; but as compared with the prewar normal average, the increase was only by 4,000 tons.

Gunny bags and cloth.

The imports of gunny bags and cloth reached a record figure in 1915-16. Throughout the year the jute industry was in a particularly healthy condition owing largely to demands connected with the war for sandbags, grainbags, gunny cloth, etc. As in raw jute, the trade in gunny bags and cloth is practically done by Calcutta alone. The total imports were 354,000 tons in 1915-16 as against 275,000 tons in 1914-15, and 203,000 tons representing an average of the prewar quinquennial period.

Hides and Skins.

In spite of continuous and progressive restrictions and prohibitions regarding the exports of hides and skins by sea, the volume of the import trade in these articles increased in the year under review from 76,000 tons to 93,000 tons.

The total imports of tea into ports aggregated 138,000 tons in 1915-16 as ^{Tea.} against 119,000 tons in 1914-15. The increase was due to exceptional demands for shipment to Europe. The bulk of the exports abroad from India is from Calcutta.

The increase in the imports into the ports from the interior of ^{Ores.} metallic ores (chiefly manganese ore) from 399,000 tons in 1914-15 to 494,000 tons in 1915-16, or 24 per cent, was due mainly to larger exports from the Central Provinces and Berar and Bombay. Most of the manganese ore from the Central Provinces and Berar is sent to the Bombay port, but the trade with Tata and Sons' Steel Works and with Calcutta is steadily increasing in importance.

There was a marked recovery in the imports of raw wool into the ports, ^{Wool, raw.} and the total imports were even higher than the level attained before the war. The average import during the prewar quinquennial period was 22,000 tons; the imports fell to 19,000 tons in 1914-15, while in 1915-16 they rose to 30,000 tons. Raw wool was in great demand for shipment to the United Kingdom.

The detailed tables showing the imports of the staple agricultural produce such as cotton, wheat, rice, gram and pulse linseed, rape and mustard, jute, and tea into the ports up to the year 1916-17, together with the provinces from which these came, will be found on pages 3-5.

The chief exports by rail and river from the ports to the interior were as ^{Chief articles of exports from ports.} follows :—

	Annual average of five years, 1909-10 to 1913-14	1914-15	1915-16
	000 tons	000 tons	000 tons
Cotton piece goods	224	219	232
„ twist and yarn	51	59	59
Sugar, refined and unrefined	516	406	465
Iron and steel, wrought	516	513	331
Kerosene oil	216	264	255
Salt	585	578	528
Rice, not in the husk	235	579	651
Railway plant and rolling stock	348	429	196

The eight articles selected above represent nearly 53 per cent of the total export trade of the ports.

The exports by rail and river of cotton yarn, both foreign and Indian, from ^{Cotton piece goods.} the ports were almost stationary; but those of cotton piece goods showed an advance of 7,887 tons in foreign and 5,386 tons in the Indian goods. Exports from Calcutta of foreign piece goods were lower by 3,492 tons, while those of Indian piece goods were higher by 1,299 tons. Exports from the Bombay port showed a rise of 8,868 tons in the case of the former and of 2,436 tons in the latter. Despatches from Calcutta of cotton piece goods of foreign manufacture were mainly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, and Assam. Bombay port sent out larger consignments of foreign piece goods to the United Provinces, the Punjab, and the Bombay Presidency, and of Indian piece goods mainly to Calcutta.

The great bulk of the trade in sugar, unrefined, was done by Calcutta, ^{Sugar.} while that in sugar, refined, not only by Calcutta but also by Bombay port and Karachi. The exports of sugar, both refined and unrefined, by rail and river from the ports rose from 406,000 tons in 1914-15 to 465,000 tons in 1915-16, but they were below the average of the prewar period (516,000 tons). The chief recipients of sugar from Calcutta were Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Bihar and Orissa, Assam, and the Central Provinces and Berar; from Bombay port were the Bombay Presidency, the United Provinces, and the Central Provinces and Berar ; and from Karachi were the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

Iron and Steel, wrought.

The trade in wrought iron and steel was much restricted on account of the cessation of imports by sea from Belgium and Germany. The exports of these articles from ports by rail and river to the interior during the year under notice were 331,000 tons as against 513,000 tons in 1914-15 and 516,000 tons representing the average of the five years immediately preceding the war.

Kerosene oil.

On account of the restricted supply of kerosene oil from abroad, the exports of this article from ports decreased from 264,000 tons in 1914-15 to 255,000 tons in 1915-16, or by 9,000 tons. The distribution inland from the receiving ports was from Calcutta to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and the United Provinces ; from Bombay port to Bombay, the Central Provinces and Berar, Rajputana and Central India, and the Nizam's Territory ; from Madras ports to Madras and Mysore ; and from Karachi to the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

Salt.

Salt is distributed inland mainly by Calcutta and Madras ports. The total receipts from ports during 1915-16 declined by 50,000 tons as compared with 1914-15 and by 57,000 tons as compared with the prewar quinquennial average. Foreign salt is imported by sea in considerable quantities into Bengal. Most other provinces consume Indian salt, about 2 to 3 tons of which are produced for every ton imported.

Rice not in the husk.

The exports by rail and river of rice not in the husk were mostly from Calcutta. During the year of report Calcutta exported 480,000 tons as against 437,000 tons in 1914-15. The total exports from all the ports increased from 579,000 tons in 1914-15 to 651,000 tons in 1915-16, the prewar quinquennial average, being 235,000 tons. The exports from Calcutta were chiefly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, Assam, and the Punjab.

Railway plant and rolling stock.

The exports of railway plant and rolling stock from the ports to the interior by rail and river decreased from 429,000 tons in 1914-15 to 196,000 tons or by 54 per cent. As compared with the annual average of the prewar quinquennium, the decrease was by 152,000 tons or 44 per cent. The reduction was partly due to the non-supply of English material, owing to the congestion in the workshops at home on account of munition work, and partly to the curtailment of all but immediately necessary expenditure in India.

Value.

The total imports and exports during the year were valued at Rs. 8.96 crores as against Rs. 7.87 crores in 1914-15. The prewar quinquennial average was Rs. 8.19 crores. The value figures for certain staples of agricultural produce have been worked out and are shown in Appendix I (pages 168-173). These quantities and values represent the inland trade between one external trade block and another and not the trade between the internal blocks of a province. The following tables showing the volume and value of the inland trade in these articles for 1915-16 as compared with those for the years 1913-14 and 1914-15 are of much interest :—

Note.—One bale of jute is equivalent to 400 lbs.

By "Calcutta" is meant the town of Calcutta with Howrah and the Kidderpore Docks. The imports exclude, therefore, arrivals into those jute mills which are outside this area. Such mills form the large majority of the total number of mills manufacturing jute.

Provinces named in the first column of the foregoing tables include their chief port or ports. "Madras ports" includes the ports of Madras, French ports (Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur and Karikal, exclusive of sea imports from non-British ports and foreign countries), Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellicherry, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara and Dhanushkodi.

Note.—One maund is equivalent to 82½ lbs.

* "Madras ports" includes the ports of Madras, French ports (Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur and Karikal), Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cochin, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellicherry, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara and Dhanushkodi.

NOTE.—Figures previous to 1st April 1912 against "Bengal" include those relating to "Bihar and Orissa" but exclude those for Eastern Bengal districts (viz., Bakarganj, Faridpur, Dinajpur, Rajshahi, Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna, Jalpaiguri, Malda, Dacca, Mymensingh, Tippera including Hill Tippera, Chittagong including Port and town, Noakhali and Chittagong Hill Tracts); these latter are included in the figures shown against Assam. For the purpose of rail and riverborne trade, the North-West Frontier Province and the Delhi Province are included in the Punjab, and British Baluchistan is combined with Sind and shown as Sind and British Baluchistan.

Corrections are made in this as well as in other tables on the receipt from Provincial officers of errors noticed in the quarterly returns submitted by them.

* Kerosene oil is imported by sea, but as the imports are stored at Budge Budge, which is beyond the limits of the Calcutta block, it appears when despatched to other Provinces, as an export from Bengal and not as an export from Calcutta. The following were the exports in hundredweights of Kerosene oil from Budge Budge to all places excepting Calcutta:—

1911-12	1912-13	1913-14	1914-15	1915-16
4,024,118 cwts.	4,266,565 cwts.	4,425,292 cwts.	4,639,587 cwts.	4,119,218 cwt.

APPENDIX—III.

Note on the method of collection and tabulation of the Statistics of Rail and River-borne Trade.

For the purpose of registration of the rail and river-borne trade the country is divided into 17 principal blocks, namely, nine blocks representing the British Provinces—Assam, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa,* the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab (including the North-West Frontier Province and the Delhi Province), Sind and British Baluchistan, the Central Provinces and Berar, Bombay and Madras; four representing the principal port towns—Calcutta, Bombay, the Madras seaports,† and Karachi; and four representing Native States—Rajputana and Central India grouped as one, the Nizam's territory, Mysore and Kashmir. The trade shown in the accounts under the head "Bengal" is the trade of the province of Bengal excluding Calcutta, the trade of which is shown separately; similarly the trade credited to Bombay, to Sind and British Baluchistan, or to Madras is the trade of such province excluding Bombay port, Karachi, or the seaports of Madras for which separate figures are given. The trade registered is the trade that comes into or goes out of each block by rail, exclusive of traffic that is merely booked through. The rail-borne trade is not registered in Burma.‡ The trade of Native States which lie within the external boundaries of a British province is included in the trade of the province.

With the exception of Sind and British Baluchistan, the British Provinces are subdivided into minor or internal blocks, and each of the seventeen principal seaports of Madras is an internal block of the main block "Madras seaports." The formation of these internal blocks was not carried out on any uniform principle. In some cases their boundaries follow administrative divisions, while in others they are determined by geographical or other considerations. The Native States have no internal blocks. The registration of the rail-borne trade is done by the railway audit offices which register the goods carried for delivery to consignees on their own lines, and in some cases, passing over their lines for delivery on connected lines. Goods carried from one station to another within the same internal block are not registered. The required information is collected from railway invoices which show, among other particulars, the description of goods, the stations from which they are sent and at which they are received, and the gross actual weights. A certain percentage which varies according to the class of goods, is taken to represent the weight of packing materials, and this is deducted from the gross actual weights recorded in railway invoices. The remainder is taken as the net weight of the goods. This net weight is registered and is shown in these tables. The railway audit offices register the trade (1) between the internal blocks of a province, and (2) between the internal blocks of a province and the internal blocks of other provinces. They supply quarterly returns to the local authorities. Quarterly statements are prepared for each province for submission to this Department. The statements show—

- i. The trade of the province as a whole with other provinces.
- ii. The trade of each internal block in the province with other provinces.
- iii. The trade of the internal blocks of the province with one another.

* Constituted a separate block from 1st April 1912.

† Madras seaports are—

Madras, Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellichery, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Madagara, Dhanushkodi and the French Ports, namely Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur, and Karikal.

‡ The registration of Inland Trade in Burma was abandoned in 1897. It was pointed out by the Government of Burma that "no request has ever been made by any mercantile body in Burma for the introduction of a system of registration of rail and river-borne trade. With regard to the movement of grain the Lieutenant Governor is disposed to think that having regard to local conditions, statistics regarding such movement would be of little value, and that the existence of agricultural distress is already in all cases brought to notice by surer and more speedy methods than such statistics would afford."

The consolidated accounts of the inland trade of India are compiled from Statement I of the quarterly returns received from the several provinces and from the quarterly returns supplied by the railways concerned of the trade of the Native States blocks with one another. The trade between each of the four Native States blocks on the one hand and British Provinces on the other is ascertained thus—the imports into British provinces from Native States represent the exports from the Native States, and the exports from the provinces represent imports into the Native States.

The river-borne trade is registered between Bengal (including Calcutta) and Assam, Calcutta and Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Bihar and Orissa, Calcutta and United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab and Sind, and British Baluchistan. The results are combined with the rail-borne trade statistics. The river-borne trade represents the trade carried by country boats, as well as by inland steamers. The boat traffic is registered at certain selected river stations by clerks who collect the necessary information from the boatmen and forward the returns to the provincial officers. The trade carried by steamers is registered by the steamer agents, and in some cases clerks from provincial offices extract the required information from the invoices recorded in the steamer companies' offices. The trade carried partly by rail and partly by river, when booked through and carried by steamers running in connection with railways, is recorded generally by the railway audit offices concerned. This trade is treated as rail-borne trade.

As the railway and steamer invoices do not contain figures of value, the returns prepared by the audit offices contain only figures of quantity recorded in standard maund of 82½ lbs. The annual provincial reports contain figures of value assigned by provincial officers, but for certain class of articles the values recorded in those reports represent only a very vague approximation to the truth and no exact debtor and creditor account exhibiting the true balance of trade can be extracted therefrom. The values in the provincial reports therefore are not taken into account in the accounts for India which contain only figures of quantity in cwts converted from net weights in maunds. As, however, the values provide the only possible common measure by which the relative importance of each article can be ascertained they are retained in the provincial reports. The classified list of articles shown in the tables is arranged in alphabetical order. The classification corresponds in the main with that employed in the sea-borne trade accounts; but it is less detailed, and the various articles are not grouped under main headings.

The nature of the trade recorded in the several tables of this account is explained below:—

Table I is an abstract of the rail and river-borne trade of British India showing total quantity of merchandise imported into and exported from each Province and Native State and the chief Seaports. Figures are given for five years ending 1915-16. The same merchandise appears in the first and second parts as imports and exports respectively. The totals, therefore, correspond. Table II is a similar abstract for treasure. Table III is an abstract table showing for five years the imports into, and exports from, each of the seventeen principal blocks of each article according to the classified list. Table IV gives a general view of the trade of the year in each article, showing at once the quantities imported into and exported from each of the seventeen principal blocks. Tables V-XII show the imports and exports of principal articles (i.e., articles the trade in which exceeds 10,000 cwts a year in each province) into and from Calcutta, Bombay port, Karachi and Madras ports for five years.

INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

This volume is the twenty-ninth of the series which was commenced in 1884-85. It includes statistics relating to the trade carried by rail and river in India up to the year 1916-17, and, in the case of imports into ports of staples, the figures are up to the year 1917-18. At the present time these statistics of the movement of inland trade are of special importance and interest. The attention of Directors of Civil Supplies should be drawn to table IV.

An explanatory note on the method of collection and tabulation of the inland (rail and riverborne) trade statistics is given in Appendix III (pages 178 and 179). The inland trade is always of interest since it gives some idea of the extent to which the different parts of the country are concerned in the movements of the chief articles of trade. It is a supplement to the seaborne trade of the country. It shows where the commodities after importation into the ports go for consumption, and whence the ports obtain the commodities for export abroad. The question of the simplification and general improvement of the system of inland trade registration and also the earlier publication of the returns is now under the consideration of the Government of India.

In the inland trade the same merchandise appears once as exports from one block and again as imports into another block, and the total exports and imports of India, therefore, correspond. The remarkable feature of the year ending the 31st March, 1917, is that the total imports and exports of merchandise amounted to 68 million tons, or an increase of about 3 million tons over the preceding year and 8 million tons over the pre-war quinquennial average.

India being an agricultural country, the variations in the trade in its main staples depend to a great extent on the climatic conditions which are vital to the year's agricultural prosperity. In 1916-17 the monsoon was particularly good, it arrived early and continued late, the distribution of rain being remarkably uniform. Thus there was ample moisture in the land for the maturing of the autumn crops and for providing a seed bed for those crops which are harvested in the spring. The winter rains, notwithstanding the beneficial showers received in places during February, were much below normal. The crops were generally better than those of 1915-16, except in regard to sugar cane and tea, and the outturn was above the average of the pre-war quinquennial period, except in regard to cotton, jute, and rape and mustard.

The imports from upcountry into the ports comprise chiefly such produce as grain and pulse, raw cotton, and oilseeds. Calcutta receives a large quantity of coal and coke, raw jute, gunnybags and cloth, hides and skins, and tea; Bombay (port) receives also oilseeds, and metallic ores, such as manganese; Karachi, raw wool; and the Madras ports, hides and skins. The appended table shows the arrivals of these commodities at the ports as compared with the two preceding years and the pre-war quinquennial average:—

	Annual average of five years, 1909-10 to 1913-14	1914-15	1915-16	1916-17
	000 tons	000 tons	000 tons	000 tons

Tea	93	119	133	124
Ores	600	399	494	628
Wool, raw	22	19	30	21

The total quantity of merchandise imported into the ports by rail and river from upcountry during the year 1916-17 was 16,555,000 tons, of which 13,298,000 tons, or 80 per cent of the total, represent imports of the articles stated above.

Raw cotton.	The quantity of raw cotton imported into the ports in the year 1916-17 showed a decrease of about 27 per cent as compared with 1915-16 and of 17 per cent as compared with the pre-war quinquennial average. Of the total imports, Bombay port received more than 77 per cent, her chief sources of supply being the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, the Nizam's Territory, the United Provinces, Rajputana and Central India, and the Punjab.
Grain and pulse.	The imports into the ports of grain and pulse increased by 9 per cent as compared with 1915-16, but declined by 15 per cent as compared with the pre-war quinquennial average. Karachi holds a premier place in this transaction, Calcutta coming next to it.
Grain and pulse.	The imports into the ports by rail and river of grain and pulse rose from 503,000 tons in 1915-16 to 584,000 tons in 1916-17. As compared with 1915-16 all the ports received larger consignments excepting Calcutta where smaller consignments were sent principally from Bihar and Orissa, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces and Berar. Bombay port received larger consignments, chiefly from the United Provinces, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces and Berar; Karachi, from the United Provinces and the Punjab; and Madras ports, from the United Provinces, the Punjab, and Mysore.
Rice not in the husk.	The imports of rice into the ports of Karachi, Bombay, and the Madras ports rose from 405,000 tons in 1915-16 to 422,000 tons in 1916-17. The imports into Calcutta fell on account of the smaller exports from Madras and the Central Provinces.
Wheat.	The imports of wheat by rail and river into the ports from the interior showed an increase in 1916-17 (1,233,000 tons as against 1,017,000 tons in the previous year). All ports received larger consignments in the year under report, but the imports into Karachi were proportionately much greater than those of other ports.
Oilseeds.	The trade in oilseeds, the bulk of which consists of receipts mainly from the Nizam's Territory, the Bombay Presidency, and the Central Provinces and Berar into the Bombay port for export abroad, had received a sudden check on the outbreak of war. The imports fell from 1,182,000 tons in 1915-16 to 1,148,000 tons in 1916-17, and had a decline of 569,000 tons as compared with the pre-war quinquennial average.
Coal and Coke.	The imports of coal and coke into the ports by rail and river showed an increase of 1,303,000 tons or 26 per cent as compared with 1915-16, and of 987,000 tons or 18 per cent as compared with the pre-war quinquennial average. The trade in coal and coke is chiefly done by Calcutta; the imports by rail and river into Calcutta rose from 3,945,000 tons in 1915-16 to 4,061,000 tons in 1916-17. Owing to the scarcity of tonnage in the coasting trade coal for Indian ports was diverted to railways, and the quantity sent by rail and river from Bengal and Bihar and Orissa to the ports increased from 5 million tons in 1915-16 to 6 million tons in 1916-17.
Jute, raw.	The trade in raw jute had received a considerable shock on the outbreak of war, on account of the stoppage of the mid-European demand. Calcutta is practically the only port which has the monopoly of this trade. The imports of raw jute into Calcutta decreased by 131,000 tons, or 12 per cent, when compared with 1915-16; but when compared with the pre-war average, the decrease was 127,000 tons that is 12 per cent.
Gunny bags and cloth.	The imports of gunny bags and cloth reached a record figure in 1916-17. Throughout the year the jute industry was in a particularly healthy condition, owing largely to demands connected with the war for sandbags, grainbags, gunny cloth, etc. As in raw jute, the trade in gunny bags and cloth is practically done by Calcutta alone. The total imports were 455,000 tons in 1916-17 as against 354,000 tons in 1915-16, and 203,000 tons representing an average of the pre-war quinquennial period.
Hides and Skins.	In spite of continuous and progressive restrictions and prohibitions regarding the exports of hides and skins by sea, the volume of the import trade in these articles increased in the year under review from 93,000 tons to 120,000 tons.
Tea.	The total imports of tea into ports aggregated 124,000 tons in 1916-17 as against 138,000 tons in 1915-16. The bulk of the exports abroad from India is from Calcutta.

The increase in the imports of metallic ores (chiefly manganese Ores. ore) into the ports from the interior from 494,000 tons in 1915-16 to 628,000 tons in 1916-17, or 27 per cent, was due mainly to larger exports from the Central Provinces and Berar and Bombay. Most of the manganese ore from the Central Provinces and Berar is sent to the Bombay port, but the trade with Tata and Sons' Steel Works and with Calcutta is steadily increasing in importance.

There was a marked fall in the imports of raw wool into the ports Wool, raw, in 1916-17 to 21,000 tons from 30,000 tons in 1915-16. The average imports during the pre-war quinquennial period was 22,000 tons.

The detailed tables showing the imports of the staple agricultural produce such as cotton, wheat, rice, gram and pulse, linseed, rape and mustard, jute, and tea into the ports up to the year 1917-18, together with the provinces from which these came, will be found on pages 3-5.

The chief exports by rail and river from the ports to the interior were as Chief articles of exports from ports. follows :—

	Annual average of five years, 1909-10 to 1913-14	1914-15	1915-16	1916-17
	000 tons	000 tons	000 tons	000 tons

Rice, not in the husk	235	579	651	464
Railway plant and rolling stock	348	429	196	120

The eight articles selected above represent nearly 50 per cent of the total export trade of the ports.

The exports by rail and river of cotton yarn, both foreign and Indian, from Cotton piece goods. the ports were almost stationary ; but those of cotton piece goods declined by 22,308 tons in foreign but showed an advance of 202 tons in the Indian goods. Exports from Calcutta of foreign piece goods were lower by 11,755 tons, while those of Indian piece goods were higher by 3,776 tons. Exports from the Bombay port showed a fall of 3,137 tons in the case of the former but a rise of 1,356 tons in the latter. Despatches from Calcutta of cotton piece goods of foreign manufacture were mainly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, and Assam. Bombay port sent out smaller consignments of foreign piece goods to the United Provinces, the Punjab, and the Bombay Presidency, and of Indian piece goods mainly to Calcutta.

The great bulk of the trade in sugar, unrefined, was done, by Calcutta, Sugar. while that in sugar, refined, not only by Calcutta but also by Bombay and Karachi. The exports of sugar, both refined and unrefined, by rail and river from the ports fell from 465,000 tons in 1915-16 to 377,000 tons in 1916-17, and they were below the average of the pre-war period (516,000 tons). The chief recipients of sugar from Calcutta were Bengal, the United Provinces, the Punjab, Bihar and Orissa, Assam, and the Central Provinces and Berar ; those from Bombay port were the Bombay Presidency, the United Provinces, and the Central Provinces and Berar ; and from Karachi, the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

The trade in wrought iron and steel was much restricted on account of Iron and Steel. the cessation of imports by sea from Belgium and Germany. The exports of wrought.

these articles from the ports by rail and river to the interior during the year underreview were 251,000 tons as against 331,000 tons in 1915-16 and 516,000 tons representing the average of the five years immediately preceding the war.

Kerosene oil.

In spite of the restricted supply of kerosene oil from abroad, the exports of this article from the ports increased from 255,000 tons in 1915-16 to 260,000 tons in 1916-17, or by 5,000 tons. The distribution inland from the receiving ports was from Calcutta to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and the United Provinces; from Bombay port to the rest of the Bombay Presidency, the Central Provinces and Berar, Rajputana and Central India, and the Nizam's Territory; from Madras ports to the rest of the Madras Presidency and Mysore; and from Karachi to the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan.

Salt.

Salt is distributed inland mainly from Calcutta and Madras ports. The total receipts from the ports during 1916-17 declined by 22,000 tons as compared with 1915-16 and by 79,000 tons as compared with the pre-war quinquennial average.

Rice not in the husk.

The exports by rail and river of rice not in the husk were mostly from Calcutta. During the year of report Calcutta exported 330,000 tons as against 480,000 tons in 1915-16. The total exports from all the ports decreased from 651,000 tons in 1915-16 to 464,000 tons in 1916-17, the pre-war quinquennial average being 235,000 tons. The exports from Calcutta were chiefly to Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, Assam, and the Punjab.

Railway plant and rolling stock.

The exports of railway plant and rolling stock from the ports to the interior by rail and river decreased from 196,000 tons in 1915-16 to 120,000 tons or by 39 per cent. As compared with the annual average of the pre-war quinquennium, the decrease was by 228,000 tons or 66 per cent. The reduction was partly due to the non-supply of English material, owing to the congestion in the workshops at home on account of munition work, and partly to the curtailment of all but immediately necessary expenditure in India.

Value.

The total imports and exports during the year were valued at Rs. 9.95 crores as against Rs. 8.96 crores in 1915-16. The pre-war quinquennial average was Rs. 8.19 crores. The value figures for certain staples of agricultural produce have been worked out and are shown in Appendix I (pages 168-173). These quantities and values represent the inland trade between one external trade block and another and not the trade between the internal blocks of a province. The following tables showing the volume and value of the inland trade in these articles for 1916-17 as compared with those for the years 1913-14 and 1915-16 are of much interest :—

NOTE.—One bale of jute is equivalent to 400 lbs.

By "Calcutta" is meant the town of Calcutta with Howrah and the Kidderpore Docks. The imports exclude, therefore, arrivals at those jute mills which are outside this area. Such mills form the large majority of the total number of mills manufacturing jute.

Provinces named in the first column of the foregoing tables include their chief port or ports. "Madras ports" includes the ports of Madras, French ports (Pondicherry with its suburb Villianur and Karikal, exclusive of sea imports from non-British ports and foreign countries), Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellicherry, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara, and Dhannshkodi.

* Kerosene oil is imported by sea, but as the imports are stored at Budge Budge, which is beyond the limits of the Calcutta block, it appears, when despatched to other Provinces, as an export from Bengal and not as an export from Calcutta. The following were the exports in hundredweights of Kerosene oil from Budge Budge to all places excepting Calcutta :—

APPENDIX—III.

Note on the method of collection and tabulation of Statistics of the Rail and River-borne Trade.

For the purpose of registration of the rail and river-borne trade the country is divided into 17 principal blocks, namely, nine blocks representing the British Provinces—Assam, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa,* the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab (including the North-West Frontier Province and the Delhi Province), Sind and British Baluchistan, the Central Provinces and Berar, Bombay and Madras; four representing the principal port towns—Calcutta, Bombay, the Madras seaports,† and Karachi; and four representing Native States—Rajputana and Central India grouped as one, the Nizam's territory, Mysore, and Kashmir. The trade shown in the accounts under the head "Bengal" is the trade of the province of Bengal excluding Calcutta, the trade of which is shown separately; similarly the trade credited to Bombay, to Sind and British Baluchistan, or to Madras, is the trade of such province excluding Bombay port, Karachi, or the seaports of Madras for which separate figures are given. The trade registered is the trade that comes into or goes out of each block by rail, exclusive of traffic that is merely booked through. The rail-borne trade is not registered in Burma.‡ The trade of Native States which lie within the external boundaries of a British province is included in the trade of the province.

With the exception of Sind and British Baluchistan, the British Provinces are subdivided into minor or internal blocks. The formation of these internal blocks was not carried out on any uniform principle. In some cases their boundaries follow administrative divisions, while in others they are determined by geographical or other considerations. The Native States have no internal blocks. The registration of the rail-borne trade is done by the railway audit offices which register the goods carried for delivery to consignees on their own lines, and in some cases, passing over their lines for delivery on connected lines. Goods carried from one station to another within the same internal block are not registered. The required information is collected from railway invoices, which show, among other particulars, the description of goods, the stations from which they are sent and at which they are received, and the gross actual weights. A certain percentage which varies according to the class of goods is taken to represent the weight of packing materials, and this is deducted from the gross actual weights recorded in railway invoices. The remainder is taken as the net weight of the goods. This net weight is registered and is shown in these tables. The railway audit offices register the trade (1) between the internal blocks of a province, and (2) between the internal blocks of a province and the internal blocks of other provinces. They supply quarterly returns to the local authorities. Quarterly statements are prepared for each province for submission to this Department. The statements show—

- i. The trade of the province as a whole with other provinces.
- ii. The trade of each internal block in the province with other provinces.
- iii. The trade of the internal blocks of the province with one another.

* Constituted a separate block from 1st April, 1912.

† Madras seaports are—Madras, Negapatam, Tuticorin, Calicut, Cocanada, Vizagapatam, Cuddalore, Cochin, Tellichery, Cannanore, Masulipatam, Mangalore, Quilon, Porto Novo, Badagara, Dhanushkodi, and the French Ports, namely, Pondicherry with its suburbs Villianur and Karikal.

‡ The registration of the Inland Trade in Burma was abandoned in 1897. It was pointed out by the Government of Burma that "no request has ever been made by any mercantile body in Burma for the introduction of a system of registration of rail and river-borne trade. With regard to the movement of grain the Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that having regard to local conditions, statistics regarding such movement would be of little value, and that the existence of agricultural distress is already in all cases brought to notice by surer and more speedy methods than such statistics would afford."

The consolidated accounts of the inland trade of India are compiled from Statement I of the quarterly returns received from the several provinces and from the quarterly returns supplied by the railways concerned of the trade of the Native States blocks with one another. The trade between each of the four Native States blocks on the one hand and British provinces on the other is ascertained thus—the imports into British provinces from Native States represent the exports from the Native States, and the exports from the provinces represent imports into the Native States.

The river-borne trade is registered between Bengal (including Calcutta) and Assam, Calcutta and Bihar and Orissa, Assam and Bihar and Orissa, Calcutta and the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab and Sind and British Baluchistan. The results are combined with the rail-borne trade statistics. The river-borne trade represents the trade carried by country boats, as well as by inland steamers. The boat traffic is registered at certain selected river stations by clerks who collect the necessary information from the boatmen and forward the returns to the provincial offices. The trade carried by steamers is registered by the steamer agents, and in some cases clerks from provincial offices extract the required information from the invoices recorded in the steamer companies' offices. The trade carried partly by rail and partly by river, when booked through and carried by steamers running in connection with railways, is recorded generally by the railway audit offices concerned. This trade is treated as rail-borne trade.

As the railway and steamer invoices do not show value, the returns prepared by the audit offices contain only figures of quantity recorded in standard maund of 82½ lbs. The annual provincial reports contain figures of value assigned by provincial offices, but for certain classes of articles the values recorded in those reports represent only a very vague approximation to the truth and no exact debtor and creditor account exhibiting the true balance of trade can be extracted therefrom. The values in the provincial reports, therefore, are not taken into account in the accounts for India which contain only figures of quantity in cwts converted from net weights in maunds. As, however, the values provide the only possible common measure by which the relative importance of each article can be ascertained, they are retained in the provincial reports. The classified list of articles shown in the tables is arranged in alphabetical order. The classification corresponds in the main with that employed in the sea-borne trade accounts; but it is less detailed, and the various articles are not grouped under main headings.

The nature of the trade recorded in the several tables of this account is explained below :—

Table I is an abstract of the rail and river-borne trade of British India showing the total quantity of merchandise imported into and exported from each province and Native State and the chief ports. Figures are given for the five years ending 1916-17. The same merchandise appears in the first and second parts as imports and exports respectively. The totals, therefore, correspond. Table II is a similar abstract for treasure. Table III is an abstract table showing for five years the imports into, and exports from, each of the seventeen principal blocks of each article according to the classified list. Table IV gives a general view of the trade of the year in each article, showing at once the quantities imported into, and exported from, each of the seventeen principal blocks. Tables V-XII show the imports and exports of principal articles (i.e., articles the trade in which exceeds 10,000 cwts a year in each province) into and from Calcutta, Bombay port, Karachi, and Madras ports for five years.
